Reflection... Unveil Your Disguise is NOW Available on iTunes, Amazon, CD Baby & all your favorite Music sites!

Reflection... Unveil Your Disguise, the new single by LooNurGooSe has been forged from experimental electronic music with a powerful overshadowing of profound lyrical substance. Our species has become nothing more than a reflection, we're just ghosts of humanity, slaves to our computer screens.

Kenneth Fisher wanted to contribute to Chad Hamlin's new LooNurGooSe studio project, so Reflection... Unveil Your Disguise became a collaborative effort with truly deep meaning. Kenny always loved the LooNurGooSe song Reflection, and wanted to contribute lyrics and vocals for a new version of the song. (The original version can be found on the LooNurGooSe album, KadyWompus.)

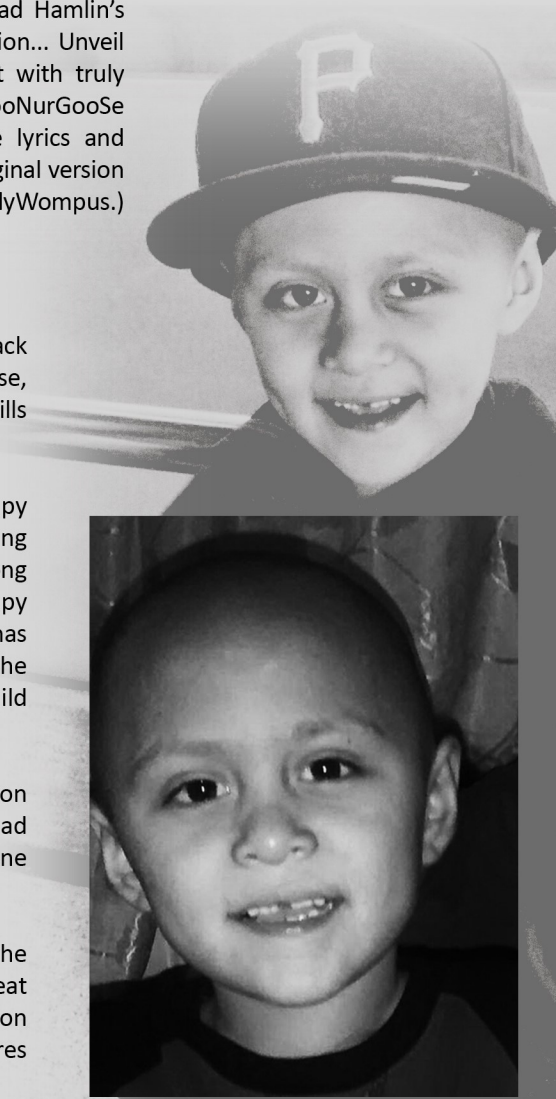

José Torres

One of the great things about this project, is that it brought the two founders of element66 back together for a good cause. All proceeds from the LooNurGooSe single, Reflection... Unveil Your Disguise, go to José Torres and his mother, Guadalupe to help them with the overwhelming cost of medical bills that are piling up on their family.

José Torres, a little boy from the Salem, Oregon area, recently completed his third cycle of chemotherapy in his fight against the neuroblastoma that has afflicted his body. (Neuroblastoma is a fast-spreading malignant cancer that attacks immature nerve cells, a condition that is most commonly found among infants and very young children.) Tests have revealed that his two previous rounds of chemotherapy failed to eliminate or shrink the tumor attached to his kidney. Guadalupe, the little boy's mother, has instilled her son with courage and a very positive outlook. He's staying strong as he undergoes the grueling chemotherapy, but it's been very hard on the Torres family to watch such an innocent child suffer so horribly.

This project came about when Rafael Mora, a good friend of Chad's and the president of the Oregon State Penitentiary's Latino Club, asked Chad to help raise money for this family in need. When Chad heard about José Torres, he wanted to help by donating all the proceeds from two of his songs, one single from each of his recording projects, LooNurGooSe and element66.

The new LooNurGooSe version of Reflection... Unveil Your Disguise (Feat. Kenneth Fisher) and the element66 song, Make It Go Away are both being released as singles to help raise money for this great cause. All proceeds from these songs go to help with the mounting medical bills that are piling up on the Torres Family, so join in with LooNurGooSe and element66 and make a difference for José Torres and his Mother, Guadalupe.
